DETAILED ACTION

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(b) the invention was patented or described in a printed publication in this or a foreign country or in public use or on sale in this country, more than one year prior to the date of application for patent in the United States.

Claims 1-3, 7-10 and 14-18 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being anticipated by U.S. Patent No. 5,522,846 to Bonutti. As illustrated in figures 5-10, Bonutti discloses the method of the claims. Structurally, the device includes a pusher member 82, an outer tubular member 84, and an anchor 10. The distal surface of the tubular member is angled and conforms to the proximal angled surface of the anchor. Figure 8 illustrates further rotation of the anchor by the suture after the insertion tool is removed. The perimeter of the proximal and distal surfaces have a cutting edge.

Respecting claims 14 and 15: “a member formed by slicing a cylinder along two parallel planes disposed at an acute angle to a longitudinal axis of the cylinder thereby forming two parallel surfaces having sharp edges,” is not considered to limit the structure of the device since it is defined in terms of a process of making.

The pusher member has a rounded distal end since it is round. The tubular member has a shoulder.

Response to Arguments

Applicant's arguments filed November 7, 2005 have been fully considered but they are not persuasive. Applicants traverse, "The Bonutti reference does not show or suggest that the pusher member comprises a pusher member having an angled distal surface which conforms to an angled surface of the anchor member when the anchor member is at least partly in the outer tube." The pusher member has a flat distal surface that is at an angle with respect to the tapered end portion of the device. Similarly, the anchor member has a surface that is angled with respect to the body of the cylinder. Therefore, the surfaces are "angled." Applicants further traverse the rejections on the grounds that the parallel end planes are not disposed at acute angles with respect to the longitudinal axis of the cylinder-like member. Examiner maintains that the interpretation of "longitudinal axis" is not limited to a central axis perpendicular to the flat surfaces of the Bonutti cylindrical anchor. Rather, the longitudinal axis may be angled with respect to the end surfaces.

Conclusion

THIS ACTION IS MADE FINAL. Applicant is reminded of the extension of time policy as set forth in 37 CFR 1.136(a).

A shortened statutory period for reply to this final action is set to expire THREE MONTHS from the mailing date of this action. In the event a first reply is filed within TWO MONTHS of the mailing date of this final action and the advisory action is not mailed until after the end of the THREE-MONTH shortened statutory period, then the shortened statutory period will expire on the date the advisory action is mailed, and any extension fee pursuant to 37

CFR 1.136(a) will be calculated from the mailing date of the advisory action. In no event, however, will the statutory period for reply expire later than SIX MONTHS from the mailing date of this final action.
